Druggists Short And Haynes Say They Do Not Charge Anything for Vinol Unless It Gives Satisfactory Results.

When asked by a reporter of the New how he would make such a broad offer in regard to his medicine, a member of the above firm replied:

"If Vinol were perfect or secret preparation it would be another thing, but it is not, everything it contains is named on the label."

Vinol is simply the up-to-date form of administering cod liver oil, which for centuries has been recognized as the grandest of all body-building agents for wasted human strength and vitality, and during the last five years we have seen it produce such grand results that we are now willing to back it with any kind of a guarantee.

In Vinol we have simply done away with the useless, system-clogging oil and given to the people all the medicinal, body-building elements of cod liver oil in a highly concentrated and delicious pastille form, and we never sell in our store a medicine of more curative and strengthening value than Vinol, and if the people of Cloverport only realized its value we would not have to send it in store to supply the demand, for it is a natural remedy. Vinol tones up the digestive organs, makes rich red blood and creates strength. We can only ask the people of Cloverport to try it on our guarantee. Short and Haynes. Druggists.

Distribution Of Seeds

The annual distribution of vegetable and flower seeds by the Department of Agriculture will begin on December 1, and before planting time it is expected the entire amount, aggregating 38,000,000 packages, will be in the hands of the people in all sections of the country. Congress for the past seven years has appropriated $200,000 for this purpose, but a portion of the amount is used for foreign experiment work and other sundry matters.

Nature needs only a little Early Riser, cow and then to keep the hens laid, pink Silver active, and the system free from bite, headaches, constipation. Hunting Season's Accidents.
The Chicago Record-Herald reports week showed thirty deaths and twenty-three injured from hunting accidents. This list includes the death of old known and other casualties, as well as the opening of the hunting season in Kentucky, mentioned elsewhere in this issue.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Healthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

Take the blood in your body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your body purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or of order, they fail to do their work.

Pain, distress and rheumatism come from excess of ureic acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidneys become quite or unsteady beats, and makes one feel as though he had heart trouble, because the heart is working in poor condition.

It is to be considered that only urinary tubules were to be traced to the kidneys, now modern science proves that nearly renal conditions diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

You are sick you can make no mistake about doctoring your kidney trouble, and the extracting of the secret of Dr. Kilmer's nostrum, the greatest kidney remedy is now established. It stands the highest for its medicinal qualities of the most distressing cases.

There are all degrees in kidney trouble, and one dollar size bottle of nostrum will cure all your kidney or bladder trouble.

EDUCATIONAL.

FAMOUS "BILL" SKEETERS IS HELD TO GRAND JURY

Bootlegger of Repute Is Arrested at Westview--Ran Away With Red-hot Still--Tom Lucas Also Held.

VALUE OF EDUCATION.

The average educated man gets a salary of $1,000 a year. He works forty years, making a total of $40,000 in a lifetime. The average day laborer gets $1.50 a day, 300 days in a year, or $450 a year. In forty years he earns $18,000. The difference, or $22,000, equals the value of an education. To acquire this earning capacity requires twelve years at schools of 180 days each, or 2160 days. Divide $22,000 by 2,160, and you find that each day at school is worth a little more than $10 to the pupil--Selected.

EDUCATION AND PROSPERITY.

An ignorant people not only is, but must be, a poor people. They must be destitute of sagacity and provide, and, of course, of competence and comfort. The proof of this does not depend upon the lessons of history, but upon the constitution of nature.

No recklessness of climate, no spontaneous productiveness of soil, no facilities for commerce, no stores of gold or diamonds, no comfort, no security, no opportunity, no educated nation. Such a nation cannot create wealth of itself and what resources may be showered upon it will run to waste. Within the last four centuries the people of Spain have given as much silver and gold as all the other nations of Europe put together; yet at the present time, poor indeed is the people who have less than they. The nation which has produced more of the raw material and manufactured it from time immemorial than all contemporary nations is today the most ragged and squalid in Christendom. --Horace Mann.

"The hill side, the dear bear, the lame walk," is the best illustration of this subject by the master hand. No page of history will ever shine so bright that this diamond will not lead all lustre.

All are blind to that which they cannot hear, and lame to all they cannot attain.

The hill comes to the pink of perfection by using its great energy every drop of water, every breath of air, and every shaft of light that comes. It is an example of success in its line.

The splendor and glory of Solomon could not match it. There is a muddle in a tangled, chaotic jumble as there is in a modern city.

The life in the jumble is blind, dead, lame, in the city it sees, hears, moves.

The same in kind, but different in degree.

Seeing, hearing, walking, is life more abundantly." Death is the entombing of every wire that communicates with the central office of life.

One dim eye, dull ear, lame foot, are just as many wires down. When they are all down, the cold falls with a dull thud upon the coffin lid.

True education is the work of true educators. They teach how to "make it life to live"; not how to turn stone into bread. Colleges and universities may crumble into dust, but such need shall forever.

These shall resist the empire of decay.

When time is over, and worlds have passed away;

Cold in the dust the perished heart may lie.

But that which warmed it once can never die.

There is in Kentucky today a thousand schools without teachers; there are thousands of schools being taught by untrained teachers, and there are hundreds of thousands of children growing up in ignorance and vice without attending any school whatever. The crying need of our state today is a sufficient corps of normally trained teachers. At present, almost any person of good moral character and a certificate may be put in charge of the training of the children, although he would not be considered competent to train a bird-dog or a colt. To train these valuable animals requires special training and a practical knowledge of their nature and characteristics, as well as of the methods best adapted to their development and training. Without this knowledge upon the part of the teacher, a valuable dog or colt may be ruined. Of course, the same thing may happen to the child in the hands of an untrained teacher, but it must be remembered that there is a vast difference between a fine English Pointer or a Thorongen-red Kentucky Roulder and a mere child(?)

How long will the pride of Kentucky remain dormant in the matter of education? How long will we allow the mass of our growing citizens to remain deaf, dumb and blind to the best there is in life? How long will we withhold the best educational advantages from the country people, just because trained teachers cost more than untrained teachers?

You are sick you can make no mistake about doctoring your kidney trouble, and the extracting of the secret of Dr. Kilmer's nostrum, the greatest kidney remedy is now established.

A Fight to the Finish.

The Oriskany Messenger very truthfully says:

"Another pitched battle is at hand in the warfare between the tobacco trust and the tobacco growers. The first engagement has been won; again the embattled farmer has fired a shot heard around the world, but the enemy against which they contend is beyond question, the most powerful one with which the American farmer has ever had to fight--a lion sonless as the forces which have driven the peasant of Europe down in the scale of civilization and enlightenment to be a brother to the ox."

"The American farmer has been victorious in every contest in which his engaged--will be victorious in this, too. But the fight is a bitter one, and to the last. It is the duty of every producer of tobacco to stand by his wealth, whether he be a farmer or not, to give the cause his support, moral and otherwise. The farmers of Oneida county, as of other tobacco growing counties, will find means sufficient to hold their tobacco until they can sell it at prices that will yield them a decent livelihood. Let no professed friend distract the war by hunting his skeptics!"

The soothing spray of Ely's Liquid Cream Bath, used in an atomizer, is an unspeakable relief to sufferers from Catarrh. Some of the best describe it as a God-send, and no wonder. The thick film always is dissolved and the patient breathes freely, perhaps for the first time in weeks.

Liquid Cream Bath contains all the healing properties of the bath salts, and is sold in small bottles, and never fails to cure. Sold by all druggists for 25¢, including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Bros. 56 Warren Street, New York.

To Reduce Insurance Rates.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 15.—State Insurance Commissioner Prewitt today completed the investigation requested by Governor Beckman as to the fire insurance rates in Kentucky and the report to the executive says that by the passage of proper laws at the coming session of the general assembly quite a reduction can be secured.

A Reliable Medicine.

Great Farmers' Meeting.

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 15.—More than 500,000 farmers in twenty-eight States are represented by the delegates to the thirty-ninth annual convention of the National Grange of Patrons of Husbandry, which began here today. There are in attendance about 2,000 members of the organization. The sessions will continue until Saturday of next week.

Governor Beckman Issues Thanksgiving Proclamation.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 17—Gov. Beckman today issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation:

"Commonwealth of Kentucky, Executive Department, Frankfort—

Thanksgiving Proclamation, 1905.

"In accordance with custom, and following the proclamation of the President of the United States I appoint Thursday, November 30, as day of thanksgiving and prayer throughout our Commonwealth of Kentucky.

"I request that all business be suspended upon that day, and that all of our people, with due observance of this hallowed and beautiful custom, give praise and honor to the gracious and merciful God who has so richly blessed us as a nation and as a people. Let us give thanks unto Him not alone with the usual religions ceremonies, but especially with deeds of kindness and generosity to the poor and needy among us, more expressive of gratitude and more pleasing to Him than all else we can do. In the plenitude of our country's wealth and prosperity, in the marvelous progress it has made under Christian civilization, let us remember that the Divine Teacher has told us in speaking of the virtues, 'The greatest among these is charity.' In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the Commonwealth to be affixed.

"Done at Frankfort this 17th day of November, 1905.

"W. C. W. BECKMAN, Governor.

Facts In Scotland.

There were cases for drunkenness in the early days of this century, and the Glasgow Gazette of May 7, 1772, we are told of a treatment that cured one patient.

Of those who took the drink, however, half died, and half recovered. Of the others, also a gift of New England wine, which operated very powerfully, although with a violent sickness which obliged him to lie down, and between 8 and 9 at night he was discovered to be dead. He died of excessive drinking, co-operating with discipline and medicine. Mr. Dobie, the operator, was innocent of his taking off.

The objection to the elixir is said to be based on its serpent-like appearance and the fact that it is not overfascinating as to what it feeds on.

THOUGHTS.

"The greed for gain and the greed for power have blinded men to the time-old distinction between right and wrong. Both among business men and at the bar are to be found advisers, counted shrewd and successful, who have substituted the penal code for the moral law as the standard of conduct. Right and wrong have given way to the subtler distinction between legal, not-illegal; and illegal; or better, perhaps, between honest, law-honest, and dishonest. This new triumph of mind over morals is bad enough in itself; but when, in addition, its exponents secure material gain and professional prosperity, it becomes a menace to our integrity as a people." Nieboh Marnay Miller

CHRISTMAS comes on Monday and it is just five weeks off. The Christmas buyers are already looking over the market. Are you ready, Mr. Merchant? If you are why not announce the fact and let the lost shopping know? Get your announcements ready for the News next week.

THE leaf tobacco market in Owensboro is on a boom. The buyers say that section are taking everything in the shape of ordinary raps at $8, $5 and $2. It is said that it is the work of the trust to kill the pooling business of the farmers. A majority of the farmers, it is claimed, are selling at these prices, while some of them are refusing to sell to the trust at any price. They say that since the farm seat pool is broken prices will go back to the same old starting rate.

WONDER if any of our farmers or farmer-boys are taking advantage of the advice given them some time ago by our enterprising Commissioner of Agriculture regarding the picking and caring for their seed corn. Now is the time to do this. Pick out your best corn and bang it away in the dry where it won't freeze so it will be ready when the time comes for testing it. Just a little attention to this now will give you many a bushel of corn next fall. Good seed is the foundation for a good crop.

"BLACKBURN has his race won," says the Owensboro Messenger. We believe it. There are a whole raft of Blackburn Democrats in this county, although the county is claimed by the "Machine." The representative from this county is a Blackburn man at heart. Whether he votes for him or not remains to be seen. Dick Owen loves Blackburn, too. All the Blackburn Democrats in this county have to do is assert their rights. If they want Blackburn, let them use up in their might and say so.

A NEW company has taken hold of the Patton brick plant. They have ample cash capital to put the plant in good repair and to operate it. They are practical business men and know their business. We are glad to welcome them to our town. So is every citizen who takes any pride at all in the up-building of the business interests of the town. Give the men a hearty welcome and a word of cheer and encouragement. If they make a success, and we believe they will, it will benefit every citizen in the town. Employment to the unemployed is what this plant means to Cloverport.

THE American horse is in much demand in Japan, says the consular reports from that country. This ought to make a good demand for the Kentucky horse. No better horse in the world than the Kentucky horse. Kentucky horsemen should get in touch with this paying trade, which promises to continue for a long time. Horsemen in Breckinridge county, do you catch on? What are you doing for that sort of yours? Are you giving him the attention he needs to make him a good horse and fit for any market or are you letting him run loose in the field doing the best he can for a living? He needs food, he needs shelter and he needs rubbing. And he needs to be fat and slick with head and tail up when the buyer comes around.

PETER Best, Jr., of Lewisport, who was elected to the legislature from Hancock county, made a remarkable race for that office. He can say what few men can say who were elected in the recent election. In the first place, he says he never sought the nomination, never asked a man to vote for him or spent one dollar in the campaign; that he is under no obligations to any man or party for his election. The people nominated him and elected him and he intends to stand by the people regardless of party. As to the senatorial race, he is free to vote for whom he pleases. He says he will not cast his vote for any man who used money to influence voters in the campaign. He is in favor of putting a stop to the use of money in elections and will use his influence to have a law passed to do away with the iniquitous practice. Good for Mr. Best. He is a man after our own heart.

"Good postmaster will be retained in office," says Mr. Cortelyou, no matter if the county chairman is deposed and the rival faction gets the organization, and no matter what the Congressman and both United States Senators say. This is right. What we want is good postmasters, and if they are not good they ought to be turned out regardless of political pull. A good postmaster is a credit to any community. He can do more for his party by attending to his business and the business of the government, and being a real good postmaster than he can by pulling and hauling voters to the polls. His business is in his office, taking care of the mail and waiting on the hundreds of people who come to his place for their mail. A poor postmaster is about as great a curse as any community can be afflicted with. Now, Mr. Postmaster, whoever you are, or wherever you are, you had better be good and attend strictly to the business of your office, if you want to hold it.

A PROMINENT Democrat of this county told us no longer than yesterday that seventy-five Democrats out of every one hundred in this county are for Joe Blackburn.

Day after day, week after week and month after month, the record of good American business keeps up. Grain shipments from Chicago and Chicago junction points increased last week by 199,000 bushels. Flour increased 16,371 barrels over the prior week. Compared with the same week of 1904, the increases were 1,578,000 bushels of grain, 29,752 barrels of flour and 8,495 tons of provisions. Our railroads in the last fiscal year returned to the people $1,388,000,000 for operating expenses out of aggregate gross receipts of $1,977,000,000. By the end of the year our railway earnings will largely exceed the gigantic sum of two thousand millions of gold dollars. The roads also give back to the people $628,000,000 for bond interest and dividends. Does not this mean that if railroad rates were set by legislation instead of being governed by the immutable law of supply and demand, which ultimately fixes all rates and prices, it would simply take money out of the pockets of railroad wage-earners, railroad supplies manufacturers and their wage-earners and the investing public to no one's real benefit. What we need now more than we do the control of the railroads, is freedom from bosses, political machines, rings and the like - to prevent the wasting of those savings in reckless expenditures, personal or family graft, riots and syndicated illegal profits.

Clark Suits Finally Settled.

Bethlehem, Ky., Nov. 21 - Special. - The Clark suits have been finally settled and the following is a list of those persons who will receive their portions: First State Bank, $118, U.S. Savings Bank, $57.50; D. S. Richardson, $100; J. W. Peeler, $100; Pete Shadley, $92; G. F. Beard, $20; C. C. Moore, $66.

The costs amounted to nearly $400. All other persons who sued will have to pay their own costs.

AN AWFUL SKIN DISEASE

Sores Covered Neck and Cheeks—Itched Day and Night—Nothing Did Me Any Good—Was Growing Worse.

CURED BY CUTICURA
AT COST OF $4.50

Miss Nellie Walker Wiele, of Lakeville, N. Y., writing under date of April 15, 1905, says: "I send you this letter in the newspapers, so that others suffering as I have may see it and be helped. I suffered for many months with an awful skin disease, sores covered my neck, cheeks, nose, ears, hands, fingers, and cheeks. Soabs would form and they would swell, and itch day and night. Then they would break open and bleed, and then they would get out of hand, and many different remedies, but none of them did me any good. I was growing worse when I tried the Cuticura Remedies. The first application helped a great deal, and when I took the three boxes of Cuticura Soap, three boxes of Cuticura Ointment, and three bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, I was completely cured."

and Chafings Cured by Cuticura

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and cracking of the skin, as in ringworm; the most disagreeable, as in pimples and ringworm; the awful suffering of infants, and anxiety of worn-out parents, as in mumps; the terrible irritation, and swelling of the skin, as in measles; with them. That Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent, which stands beyond question all doubt, the remedy of the civilized world.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are sold throughout the world. Write to Cuticura Company, Louisville, Ky., for Send me Cuticura Remedies. How to Cure Skin Diseases.

fast, take Scott's Emulsion.
When you can't eat bread and butter, take Scott's Emulsion. When you have been living on a milk diet and want something a little more nourishing, take Scott's Emulsion.

To get fat you must eat
fat. Scott's Emulsion is a great fattener, a great strength giver.

Those who have lost flesh want to increase all body tissues, not only fat. Scott's Emulsion increases them all, bone, flesh, blood and nerve.

For invalids, for convalescents, for consumptives,
for weak children, for all who need flesh, Scott's Emulsion is a rich and comfortable food, and a natural tonic.

Scott's Emulsion for bone, flesh, blood and nerve.

We will send you a free sample.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Scott's Emulsion.

ARNOLD KEOWN FOUND

DEAD NEAR HIS HOME.

Victoria Youth Killed by Accidental Discharge of Gun - Casualties Over State and How They Happened.

Arnold Keown, age seventeen, was found dead about 10 or 11 o'clock last Friday morning in a field near his home at Victoria. His discharged gun was found by his side, the contents having entered his abdomen. It is thought that the gun was accidentally discharged while he was in the act of raising it from the ground to fire.

Young Keown left home the afternoon of the day before, telling his mother that he was going out with his gun and dogs. Later she heard several shots but paid no attention to them. Keown did not return home at nightfall but his mother was not very uneasy, as she supposed he had gone to spend the night with a neighbor. When he had not returned home the next morning, and searching and looking for him, it was suggested that he had perhaps went astray shot himself and a search party was organized.

The boy's body was found lying face down in a field near his home, was immediately laid in the shade of a pecan tree. It is thought that he was standing on the log with the gun leaning against it, and that the gun was discharged while he was in the act of raising it to the position of a rabbit as the shot ranged upward in his body.

Coroner Faqua was summoned to the scene of the tragedy.

Young Keown was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Keown, and was well thought of by everyone. The body was buried Thursday in Robards graveyard.

Nose Shut Off and Eyes Out. Thomas Morrissey, with a party of friends who were on a hunting expedition near Ludlow, John Brown, one of the hunters, was carrying a shotgun when it was accidentally discharged. The entire charge struck Morrissey in the face, tearing his nose off and destroying his eyeight.

Dog Watches By Boy's Body. Charles Reed, a thirteen year-old, owned boy, was found dead in a cold corner Mr. Stovall, his master, said he was accidentally killed while hunting the day before. His dog watched by his side all night.

Hand Blown Off. Clarence Chappell, of Paducah, had a hand blown off by the accidental discharge of a gun while hunting near Dyersburg, Tenn.

Friend Assistance Shoots Him. While hunting quail with H. F. Stovall near Rockfield, S. Buckner Duncan, of Bowling Green, was accidentally shot. The load from one barrel of Stovall's gun struck Mr. Duncan's right arm, between the elbow and shoulder. The accident occurred at a point where the gun was crossing a log over a stream. Mr. Duncan passed to Mr. Stovall. The latter came near falling, as Duncan reached out with a stick to give him assistance. It is thought the trigger to Stovall's gun was struck with the stick, causing the discharge.

Shoots at Covey; Brings Down Man. Adam Yochim, while hunting near Anchorage, whether he had gone with Mike Rose and Joe Herbst, received the contents from Herbst's gun full in the face, and the services of a physician were necessary in order to pick out all the bullets. Herbst raised his gun to shoot at a covey, and did not see Yochim on the other side of the bushes, and as a result the latter lost a tooth, had his lip punctured. His cheek filled with shot and this arm injured.

Misses Quail; Shoots Man.

George Thomas was walking along the road in Daviess county when he was shot down by Forrest Miller, who had missed a quail, and the shot struck Thomas in the neck.

Boy Shoots Father at Front Gate. At Owenton, M. C. Ford was standing at his front gate when his son attempted to shoot a rabbit. The father received the contents of the discharge in his abdomen.

Growers to Pool Cotton.

New Orleans, Nov. 15.—Following the arrival of President Harry Jordan, the Southern Cotton Association today perfected plans for taking off the market of 3,000,000 bales of cotton by means of a series of pledges which the farmers have signed, stating their name and address and the amount of cotton they will hold. The cotton held will not be sold for less than 15 cents a pound. A representative of the association is to be sent into every one of the 817 cotton producing counties of the cotton belt at once. When the pledges are signed they will be sent to the central office of the association in Atlanta. President Jordan says that half of the crop has already been sold at an average of 10 cents, and the spinners must have all the remainder. He believes that 15 cents for the remainder is a fair price, and it will only average the spinners 12½ cents, while they have based all their calculations on 14 cents cotton.

In Time of Peace.

In the first month of the Russian-Japan war we had a striking example of the necessity of preparation and the early advantage of those who, so to speak, "have shingled their roofs in dry weather." The virtue of preparation has made history and given to us our greatest men. The individual as well as the nation should be prepared for any emergency. Are you prepared to successfully combat the first cold you take? A cold can easily carry many just as easily as a bullet can. So far as your contract and before it has become settled in the system, "Hammerin' Tom" Remond is famous for its remedies for colds and it should be kept at hand ready for instant use. Keep it by Short & Haynes' Cloverbright.

Present Period Most Dramatic in County's History Says Folk.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 18—Edward Rosewater, editor of the Omaha Bee, and Gov. Joseph W. Folk, of Missouri, were the guests of honor at the monthly dinner here tonight of the Knife and Fork Club, Gov. Folk, in the course of his speech, said:

"The next few years will be distinguished as the time in which industrial problems are settled, the reign of special privileges brought to an end, the recognition of the doctrine of equal rights fixed in national policies and in the conscience of mankind. We are in the midst of the most dramatic period of American history, the period in which the people's rights are to be defined and observed as they never have been before."

"There have been great reform movements in the days gone by, but these were local; the ravages of graft were driven away and remained but a season, and then returned after the waves of public indignation had spent their fury. The present presents a situation of brighter promise to our vision. Reform shows signs of becoming universal instead of local and transitory."

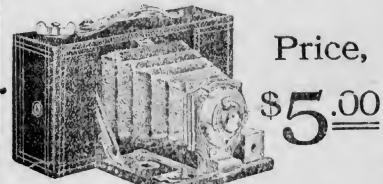

"Will it last? is the question. Will not the people soon forget and allow things to continue in the same old way? I answer no. Revolutions never go backward, and this is a revolution that has been wrought in the conscience of man."

The present movement, Gov. Folk said, did not mean the destruction, but rather the purging of the organization of political parties on a higher plane.

FITZHUGH LEE'S ESCAPE.

BULLET FROM REPRESENTATIVE JENKINS' MUSKET PLOUGHED THROUGH HIS HAT.

Thrilling Occurrence of the Civil War—Cont'd. rates Made Three Desperate Charges in Blinding Midnight Thunder Storm.

W. M. Wooster.

One warm summer evening in 1865, I am shooting with John Jenkins of Wisconsin, who is now aby representing his State in Congress.

We were watching the oncoming of a heavy thunder storm, and the clouds had turned black, and to the time of his youth when he entered the Union army and was, by the stirring events of the war, transformed into the fearless soldierhood that has since characterized him.

"It was just such an evening in the summer of '62," he remarked, "that I nearly killed Fitzhugh Lee, in Virginia and I was in charge of an ammunition train which was on its way to McClellan's army."

We had been hasted by a hasty order from headquarters, and directed to remain where we were—near a little village thirty miles south of Washington.

"No reason was given for the delay, though some of the boys thought it was for the purpose of enabling an enemy cavalry to pass through. We said they guessed Mac'don't have any further use for powder. However, we were mighty glad to go into camp, as many of the men were fatigued after long and hot marching, besides it gave us opportunity to forage and get better rations than hard-tack and maggoty bacon—so we were well satisfied."

"We pitched our tents in an open field, a short distance to the east of a high road which stretched away toward home. About a quarter of a mile to the south was a thick piece of timber.

The Old Pic Woman.

"The third day we were in camp a woman came through selling pies. We thought nothing of her visit, other than that her pies were home-made and taste well.

"It was just such a day as this," continued the Judge, "and in the afternoon the clouds became very oppressive. As we sat around the campfire we observed thunderheads piling up in the southwest; and the boys prophesied that we would have a break in the weather.

"I became uneasy as the night wore on, and walked about the camp watching the flashes of distant lightning and the dark masses of passing clouds which seemed to be flanking us on the north.

GEN. FITZHUGH LEE.

I realized that the open field offered the more safety for the ammunition in case of severe lightning. Still an unaccountable sense of impending danger possessed me, and I could not help but feel that it appeared to be a foolish impulse. I ordered the boys to move all of the ammunition into the timber just below the camp. This was done without haste, and the tents and other property were allowed to stand where they were. Camp fires were lighted as usual.

The more I thought of the pie-woman, the more suspicious it made me, and feeling ill at ease, I spoke to some of the boys about her visit. They joked about it, and said that her pie had given me my indisposition.

"Why," my orderly said, "there ain't a Johnnie brar nowhere around here. They're all down there with 'Mac' Keppel' and the like."

"That's all right," said another, "but why were we halted here, if there's no danger?"

The Pickets.

"No one volunteered an answer to who was doing this, and I decided it would be wise to double the guard."

The men who were detailed for the extra duty grumbled some, and as they started for their posts one "guzzler" was afraid that he was going to charge us." Another was sure the "Cap" was afraid of his shadow after dark, however."

"About ten o'clock was brought the news that the pickets on the west had observed a small force of cavalry, but thought they were Union men.

"An hour later a force of two or three squadrons of cavalry, passing some distance to the south of our position and going in a westerly direction. Again, the pickets were not positive, but thought they were our cavalry."

The expected storm seemed to have passed off to the north, though the staggering, half-moon showed the western quadrant still dark and threatening.

The camp had settled down for the night, but I was uneasy, and sat near the fire, thinking over the events of the reported cavalry was the supposed escort which had missed the road to our camp and was in the rear. I noted the reassembled, and walked over to the post covering the road to the west.

"Scarcely had I reached the plicket when we heard the tread of horses and the sound of hoofs.

"Don't challenge," I whispered,

"We'll take him if it's a Johnnie!"

"We stepped into the deeper shadows, and soon a mounted Confederate officer, with the drawl of the South, and was silhouetted against the sky. In a moment or two he reached the point commanding a view of our camp, drew his pistol and fifty feet away he rode towards us.

"I cautiously took the picket's rifle, and we sprang out into full view. The officer started to see us, and wheeling his horse, rode away.

"'Halt,' I cried, and as he dashed on with a quick aim, I pulled the trigger. Simultaneously with the report, the gun cracked up the gun, exclaiming, 'My God, Cap'n, you're shooting one of our men.'

Bullet Ploughed Through Hat.

"Then the officer's hat twitted sharply as the heavy bullet tore through it. For an instant he swayed as though hit, then sprang up the road before I could reload. The quick blow of the picket had saved his life.

HON. JOHN J. JENKINS

With a sound of his galloping horse, we heard shots on the north, and soon afterwards our pickets were driven in by a force of the enemy's cavalry.

The camp was hurriedly aroused, and our boys were ready for the attack. Bayonets were fixed. The men took up their rifles and loaded them, and the horses were almost on them.

"It had become very dark, and from the flash of the lightning we saw that the expected storm was at last upon us. In a few minutes the horses overcame the fear, and it all so the enemy charged, yelling like devils. On they came, riding as mad, and led by the very officer I had so narrowly missed. I recognized him instantly.

The Midnight Charge.

"We held our fire until they were almost on top of us, and then along the whole front of our triple line, blazed our guns full in their faces.

The charge was terrible. Troopers reeled in their saddles. Horses staggered and went down with their riders. Officers were cut down and dashed helplessly on the grass.

It was worse than nightmare—the roar of rain, the total darkness, insulted by the crashing, blinding lightning, the snarling, yelling voices, charging along in the dark.

The flashes showed as the killer and wounded strayed along our front, and I took a dismounted captain prisoner.

"Three times they charged us the night, and as many times were driven off by the last time retreating southward.

When the morning came, we buried our killed side by side with the Confederates.

The picket told me that the charge was led by Fitzhugh Lee in person and then I knew it must have been he who killed with the picket's rifle. "Do you know," said the Judge after a long silence, "that the Judge after the long silence, said to the house to avoid the heavy gusts of rain, 'I've always been thankful to that mistaken picket.'

Waved the Old Flag.

Lender and Justice explained the sound until the chorus of the last verse was reached, when a member of a New York City regiment, a regular Tammany thoroughbred, reached his hand, which he hid, in some way, concealed within his coat sleeve, and waving, which he did, in some way, concealed within his coat sleeve, and waving, which he did, in some way, concealed within his coat sleeve, and waving, even if they worked day and night, in three shifts, for fifty years.

OUT OF THE JAWS OF DEATH

It mattered not that the rambunctious second hand and painted over auction though at a ridiculously low price. It mattered not that I had but nine-horse power while Fred Wilson, in his the driving car, had twenty-four. It was as happy as king for new possession set aside, so far as Fred's advantage over me in the attack upon Miss Scott made him. I had been taking her riding on the Beach Drive, and I had ground my teeth with futile jealousy, until came my wonderful opportunity. I was really beyond my means. I simply couldn't help it. When a man is in love, you know, he is.

And didn't my breast swell with pride when I whirled up to Alice's house that evening the second after my purchase to take her for the moonlight along that magnifying five-mile stretch of perfect road? I had made up my mind to tell her that all the time I had been in my heart for a many ungrateful hours—that I loved her, that I wanted her for my very own—fact, that she was the only girl in all the world for me.

Oh, it is glorious to sit by the girl you love and spin through the night in the full joy of life! A dozen times I was on the point of speaking, and I had practised steadily at the steering, endeavouring to be able to speak without touching pen in hand, in order to have the other free for Alice's wiles. I pictured it all—how she would listen to me with her both eyes with yearning eyes and let her pretty head fall on my shoulder; and how I would then put my arm around her, very tenderly, and draw her close and kiss her. But it did not turn out that way at

I was going to say precious head! our hearts beat like mad, and my heart made violent leaps. There was stage struck fire-tightened. I had a sort of buck-augie. I took cover and found my tongue.

But I got no further. In the darkness at the roadside, a sharp noise like a horn-murmur, a sudden terror shot through me. The machine swerved sharply, and I was compelled to use both hands to hold it up. I had to stop speed a trifle, and then instinctively looked behind. A glance was enough. The bulk had moved out into the middle of the road. But I had unlatched, and my hand was unfastened. The next moment we crashed into the bushes at the side of the road and came to a short stop in the trees. I sprang out and ran across the road, and awaited the descent of the lion. I could feel him in the air behind me. I stood with a prayer on my lips. Instead he burst out on the Wool Road. There were loud voices. The machine was at a standstill, and I could see the lights through the bushes. Alice had stopped. What could it be? A dog? A lion? My heart sank. I thought of the chorus of mournful howls any hours went shortly before I had seen Alice. There was no doubt about it, behind us, loping easily with tail swishing in glee, came a huge, sinewy, hairy beast, the great singeing head, had sprung from the Zoo, and was probably mad with fight from the attempts of the keepers to capture him.

A little faster and still a little faster. I did not want to turn on full speed at once. Alice might understand. Probably we could slip away from the beast if we turned to the right. The lion was just as close as before, bounding like a giant cat, as easily and as quietly as a phantom.

But you can not keep a secret from a woman. Alice turned her eyes to make a judicious leap, and had we been a trifle less swift we may have landed on top of us. But we shot from under him, and as he descended one great paw swept over the leather covering. God, those claws and their power. Another jump and we would have done for us.

The lion in front was now almost upon us. The deep-toned roar sounded a warning. At that instant I decided on a new course. We were still grazing a good distance.

Taking the handbrake I crossed sharp across the track, just grazing the big car in front, and darted down the hill. But I had unlatched, and the next moment we crashed into the bushes at the side of the road and came to a short stop in the trees. I sprang out and ran across the road, and awaited the descent of the lion. I could feel him in the air behind me. I stood with a prayer on my lips. Instead he burst out on the Wool Road. QUEER DANISH SITUATION.

European and Diplomatic Gossip.

The late Lord Stanley, of Alderley, England, entered upon his last earthly functions, turned towards everything American. Some few years ago the American Society in London was holding its annual dinner on Independence Day, and invited Lord Stanley to the feast. His present title, however, did not prevent him from being a guest. The American, was, "Lord Stanley presents his compliments to the secretary of the American Society, but can not say whether he will or will not have been asked to a banquet to celebrate an uninvited rebellion."

Countess Raben Levetzow, wife of the Danish Minister for Foreign Affairs, American, is the daughter of the former wife of the Danish Minister at Berlin. By the way, so much has changed since the accession of the popularity of King Christian of Denmark, that most people will probably be surprised to learn that for twenty years past there have been no less than four duels between the veteran monarch and the national legislature. The Liberals have continuously held a majority in the House of Commons, while the Conservative party has been in the minority. But in the quiet of Alice's dainty parlor, with no fear of pursuers or intruders, I went on with my uncontrived story. And later, with both arms around her, and her dear face very close to mine, we plumped our honeymoon.

Delightful—for the Guests.

There is no more delightful visitor than a subordinate clerk drawing the large monthly stipend of a hundred dollars, but of course the guests were not cog- nizant of this fact. They were not surprised, however, when I told them my plan was successful. Following us closely he had no time to dodge the heavy car. He met it head on. Then came the sound of a gun, and the runabout was not hurt, and after a time, with Alice beside me, recovered, though tremulous, we rode slowly home. The paper was not mentioned. KING CHRISTIAN OF DENMARK.

Folketing, the Danish Parliament, has summoned the King and invited ministers to a conference at the royal residence of Frederiksberg, near Copenhagen, to consider the question of the Conservative party.

Representatives of the minority have conducted the routine business of the government, but whenever they had to ask the Folketing for special funds, at every session, the members of the official party, who were a majority, had always voted against them.

So he made these guests welcome in his study, giving in his room at times, chafing his hands over his hot coffee, and then, as he had his bath, not his best clothes, as had been his custom when he reached home at evening, returned to his study and, after neglecting the necessary work on his pipe, et cetera, of course, there were many extra expenses, and after a hearty meal, the greater increased cost of the table, the milk bill, the bill for fuel and the general expenses of the house, which had been of small moment to a man with a large income, but were to him now of considerable amount, as weeks passed by and the guests made no sign of departure.

But in these must come to an end, and as the cool winds and beginning of autumn arrived they said, "But indeed, we surely must return to the city. We have made many mistakes where we expected none."

And so they gave their host a formal handshake and a perfunctory kiss, while the king and Alice embraced the house and to Alice said, "Never have we been more charitably entertained; you have done everything for us, and we shall never forget your kindness."

And the poor clerk returned to his desk and work, the house resumed its quietness, and the king rolled around him added his debits and his credits, only to find that extra money did not prevent rendering on the wrong side of the scale.

Whether it was ample compensation for him to hear, when he occasionally mentioned Alice, the name of friend of the charming hospitality shown by his wife, is known only to himself. Doubtless so, since husband and wife are now more than ever apart.

It was so open on the Drive, and there was such a stream of automobiles and carriages that he deflected a few to the left and turned onto the Boulevard. "Then we will come back by the Wood Road, skirting the Zoo and ending up at Aladdin's Castle," he said. "Alice, you will like that?" And she smiled up at me so appreciatively that I felt perfectly sure, for full half a mile, that she was just as much in love with me as I was with her.

Meade County.

(Messenger.)

Forest Blaine, of Concordia, has received from Stephensport, where he resides.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Marshall and sister Alice, of Goshen, spent Sunday at Irvington with his father.

W. D. Ashcraft and Miss Mary Lewis spent Saturday and Sunday at Irvington with the guests of Mrs. Jeannette.

Miss Lucie Cunningham, of Irvington, was the guest of Mrs. Pon Rhoads, at week.

Misses Minnie and Callie Mae Singletary, of Bombay, spent Sunday with relatives in Breckenridge county.

Uncle John Carl and daughter, Mrs. Alice Stiles, of Breckenridge county, were visiting relatives and friends in Meade county.

In the race for police judge in Bradenburg last Tuesday Judge C. C. Albrecht and C. E. Scott tied for the place, each receiving 45 votes. The says that a tie shall be decided by the election commissioners giving two dollars to settle the tie. John town for Mr. Scott and took his place which showed two best in votes and Mr. Scott received the verdict.

When a Meade county boy goes out "do something" you will always hear from him. Will Douglass, who has been the sporting editor of the Courier-Journal for years, has just been offered the editorship of the sporting department of the Chicago Intercean, one of the largest dailies in the world. While Will's friends in Meade are glad to hear of his success, they will also be glad to learn that he is going to leave Kentucky and the Courier-Journal will remain where he first started on the ladder of success. Will says the "J" is good enough for him and as for leaving old Kentucky they couldn't haul him away with a fog or team.

Why a New Ballot is Needed.
Under the above head, the New York Sun has an editorial which is applicable to this state as well as New York. The editorial in question is as follows:

"Now New needs a new ballot because under the present law equal citizens are not placed on the equal footing in the voting booths. For those who fear death or disease want to vote, a straight ticket the way is made smooth and the task easy. For equally reputable citizens who wish to vote split tickets the road is rough and discouraging. The ballot now in use is so constructed as to make miscalculations and errors easy. It is so big, to unfold, so complicated work. To refold it properly requires considerable skill. There are many ways open for a voter to invalidate his ballot innocently. He may tear it or make a mark outside a voting space, or otherwise deface it without intention, but with the effect of disfranchisement.

All that the advocates of a new ballot ask is that the ballot be made as simple as possible, that the opportunity for mistakes and errors be made as small as possible. Then independent and partisan be put on the same footing, when they go to vote. This could be accomplished by abolishing the party voting circles, arranging all the candidates for each office in alphabetical order under the title of the office, and requiring each voter to mark the candidate of his choice for every office except, perhaps, the candidates for Electors of President and Vice-President, for each group of whom one mark might be made." All spaces on the ballot except the voting spaces "should be filled in with printing or borders, so that no elector would be tempted to mark outside a voting space.

"No man except a boss would oppose such an improvement of the ballot. No Legislature would make it. It is no advantage for any individual. The only persons who would suffer from it would be the bosses, and its benefits would be felt by every resident of the State."

A Disastrous Calamity.
It is a disastrous calamity, when you lose your health, when infestation and constipation have snatched it away. Prompt relief can be had in Dr. King's New Life Pill. They build up your digestive organs, and cure headache, rheumatism, colic, constipation, etc. Manufactured at Short & Hayes' drug store, $5c.

Thinking of the Cook.
Jones—What makes you think Snubbs is absent-minded? Freyer—We went into an auction store yesterday. The auctioneer was shouting, "Going, going, going." Snubbs said, "Please don't go! I will give you $5 a month more and have a girl to help you with the washing!"

Hyomei Cures Catarrh Breathes it

No dangerous drugs or alcoholic concoctions are taken into the stomach when Hyomei is used. Breathed through the inhaler, the balsamic healing of Hyomei penetrates to the most remote cells of the nose and throat, and thus kills the catarrhal germs, heals the irritated mucous membranes, gives complete and permanent cure.

Hyomei is the simplest, most pleasant, and the only guaranteed cure for catarrh that has been discovered. Complete outfit, $1.00 extra: bottle, 50 cents.

All Reasons the Preacher.
Sydney Smith lived to tell a good story, and one that haunted his brain and tickled his sides for weeks was that of a tame magpie in a church that suddenly descended on the reading desk and strove to fly off with the sermon. In the desperate struggle that ensued between the bird and the preacher, the congregation all in favor of the bird.

Natural.
Patient—What do you think I'm getting all right? Doctor—Oh, you will have a good deal of fever, but that doesn't trouble me. Patient—Of course not. If you had a fever it wouldn't trouble me. Tales

The Last.
When a fellow has discovered that a loose change has filtered through a hole in his trousers pocket it is nearly impossible to get him to accept the scientific proposition that nothing is lost.

Man's Unconsciousness.

It often is as great as a woman's. But Thomas A. Austin, Mgr. of the "Republican" of Louisville, Ind., was not particularly pleased when he allowed the doctors to operate on his wife for female trouble. "Instead," he said, "we concluded to try Electric Bitters. My wife was so sick, she could hardly leave her bed, and five (5) druggists had failed to relieve her. After taking Electric Bitters, she was perfectly cured, and can now perform all her household duties." Guaranteed by Short & Hayes' druggists, price 50c.

Notes About New Railroad.

(Hartford Herald.)
P. D. Grisard and his surveying party have moved their camp to Danbury and will likely be there about a month or when time it is thought the survey for the new railroad will be completed as far as Fonda will.

Condensation proceedings have begun in the Ohio county court to consolidate land for the right of way of the Madisonville, Hartford & Eastern Railroad. Those against whom suits have been filed are: Dr. W. M. Warder, and C. Lee Warder, Carpenter; B. T. Rose, T. C. Stratton, and Capt. S. K. Cox, Hartford.

But few people are entirely free from indigestion at this season of the year. Kodol Dyspepsia is not the only complicated work. To refold it properly requires considerable skill. There are many ways open for a voter to invalidate his ballot innocently. He may tear it or make a mark outside a voting space, or otherwise deface it without intention, but with the effect of disfranchisement.

Two Kinds of Boys.
"My son got hant fever from studying too hard," said one mother to another, "and I am afraid he will never be able to express a thrill of interest again."

"That's bad, but my boy broke his leg and two ribs in his first game of football," replied the other, with motherly gratification.—Baltimore American.

Senator Blackburn Confident; Will Abide by Caucus' Decision.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 15.—J. C. S. Blackburn, candidate to succeed himself as United States Senator, declared yesterday that his legislative opponents would go into a caucus with the Payne forces, and expressed the utmost confidence that he would be the next Democratic nominee. Senator He declared that he would abide by the result of the caucus, and if it should decide against him he would go to the right on the floor of the Legislature.

"I have been an advocate of Democratic caucuses for forty years," he declared, "and I believe this Senatorial nomination should be decided by a caucus."

"But if the caucuses nominate Paynter, what will you do?" he was asked and answered in this way.

"Once I was the victim of a lot of Bessians who voted a caucus, and you may be sure that I will never put myself in the position that they were in. I consider any man who bolts a party a cancer a traitor to the state."

Senator Blackburn declined to give the exact number of members of the Legislature that are pledged to him, but declared that there were a sufficient number to insure him victory.

He will probably fifty-three to nominate in the caucuses and seventy to support him in the Senate.

THE BEST FRIENDS OF PE-RU-NA ARE THE MOTHERS AND CHILDREN

When Sickness Comes to the Little Ones

It Is the Mother Who Chiefly Suffers.

She suffers even more than the child who happens to be sick.

Her sympathy is greater than that of any other member of the family.

The mothers look forward with dread to the torrid heat of summer, thinking of their children and the many illnesses to disease that are before them.

Spring and summer are sure to bring ailments, especially among the little folks.

It does not take a mother very long to discover that Peruna is the best friend she has in times of illness among the children.

The doctors may come and go with their different theories and constant change of remedies.

The doctor of years ago gave entirely different remedies than he does today.

Each year finds some change in his prescriptions and in the drugs he relies upon.

A Multitude of Mothers Have Discovered that Peruna is the Stand-by, and that in all the ailments of childhood, from the common cold to the children are subjected, Peruna is the remedy that will most quickly relieve.

Whether it is spring fever or stomach derangement, whether it is indigestion or bowel disease, a catarrhal congestion of the mucous membranes, or a cold.

Peruna quickly relieves the congestion of the mucous membranes. Its operation is prompt, the children do not dislike to take the medicine; it has no deleterious effects in any part of the body.

It simple removes the cause of the disagreeable symptoms and restores the health.

Peruna is not a physical. Peruna is not a nervous nor a narcotic. Peruna does not produce any drug habit, however strong it may be taken. Peruna is not a stimulant.

Peruna is a specific remedy for all catarrhal ailments of winter and summer, acute or chronic.

The mothers all over the United States are the best friends that Peruna has.

The Mothers Hold Peruna in High Esteem.

Not only because they have cured them of their various ailments, but because it always relieves the children from the throes and grasp of catarrhal diseases.

We have in our files hundreds of testimonies from mothers whose children have been cured by Peruna. However, the large majority of mothers who use Peruna, were never hear from.

But we do hear from a great number of mothers who are so overjoyed at some miraculous cure effected by Peruna that they cannot restrain their enthusiasm. They are anxious to share these benefits with other mothers.

The Benefit Which the Children of the United States Have Received From Peruna Can Never Be Put Into Words.

This cannot be done, as it has prevented the suffering it has mitigated, will never be fully recorded.

But at least this much can be said that the coming generation owes a great debt to Peruna, for it is in the tender years of youth that slight ailments are liable to develop into lasting disease, thus blighting the whole career of the individual.

The mothers who are bringing up their children to-day to believe in Peruna, are doing a great work for humanity.

The mothers from whom the world in Peruna from the start, will, when they become heads of families themselves, use Peruna with unquestioning faith.

Peruna Protects the Entire Household.

As soon as the first signs of Peruna is apprehended by every household, both as a preventive and cure, tens of thousands of lives will be saved, and hundreds of thousands of chronic, lingering cases of catarrh will be prevented.

"We had several doctors and they said they could do more for him so let us get Peruna and we will see what that did the work. Since then we keep it in the house all the time, and no doctor is required." —Edward Otto.

Mrs. Theresa Cooke, 288 N. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Ill., Treasurer Ladies' of the Macabees, writes:

"In our home Peruna is the only medicine we have. Grandmother, mother, father and all have used Peruna. It is our great remedy for catarrh of the stomach and head, colds, and female complaints of which it has cured me."

"We find it of great value when my husband becomes worn out or catches cold. A couple of doses cure him."

"If the baby has colic, or any stomach disorders, a dose or two cures her."

"I consider Peruna finer than any doctor's medicine that I have ever tried. I consider this the best we have in the house, we will all be sure to keep it in good health." —Theresa Cooke.

No Doctor Required.

Mr. Edward Otto, 287 N. Stoltz street, St. Paul, Minn., writes:

"I cannot say enough for Peruna. It has done great work in my family, especially for my oldest boy. We had doctors with three or four different doctors and they did not seem to do any good."

"We gave up hopes of cure, and so did they, but we pulled him through on Peruna."

"We had several doctors and they said they could do more for him so let us get Peruna and we will see what that did the work. Since then we keep it in the house all the time, and no doctor is required." —Edward Otto.

Peruna Contains No Narcotics.

One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind. Peruna is perfectly harmless. It can be taken in large quantities without acquiring a drug habit. Peruna does not produce temporary results. It is permanent in its effect.

It has had effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh.

"We are a multitude of homes where Peruna has been used off and on for twenty years."

"Such a thing could not be possible if Peruna contained any drugs of a narcotic nature."

Mr. G. H. Farmer, New Martinsville, W. Va., writes:

"Our little son, Harry, is well and healthy now and we think if we do as you directed us, he will keep his health."

"Should we have any more catarrhal trouble in our family, we shall always write to you for treatment?" —G. H. Farmer.

Mr. Howard Andrew Steiner, Middletown, Pa., writes:

"I have Peruna in my house all the time. It is a wonderful medicine. It is good for children when they take a cold or crop. It cured my baby boy of crop."

"I have introduced Peruna into six families since I received your last letter, and four have seen relief already."

Howard Andrew Steiner.

Peruna Should Be Kept In Every Household

Where There Are Little Children.

Peruna should be kept in the home all the time. Don't wait until the child is sick, then send to a drug store. But, have Peruna on hand—accept no substitutes.

Children are especially liable to acute catarrh. Indeed, most of the afflictions of childhood are catarrhal.

All forms of sore throat, quinsy, croup, hoarseness, laryngitis, etc., are but different types of catarrh.

Mrs. Amelia Salter, Menasha, Wis., writes:

"We have used Peruna for a number of years. It cured me of chronic catarrh which I suffered from in infancy."

"When my three children were born we all had catarrh, but I have given them Peruna and find it very effective in ridding them of this terrible trouble. I find it is also good to give them a tonic and a preventative of colds and colic."

"In fact, I consider it a household blessing. I would not know how to raise my children without it. I am sending you a gift of my recommendation." —Amelia Salter.
